Last week, a joint congressional House caucus hearing voiced support for the Iranian peoples' uprising, following a wave of recent executions by the Islamic regime in an attempt to contain unrest in the country.

The Islamic Republic of Iran must be held accountable for its long-running crimes against humanity, according to over one hundred former world leaders in an open letter to the heads of the U.S., Canada, the EU, and the UK.

The letter, published on Tuesday, calls on President Joe Biden, European Council President Charles Michel, UK Prime Minister Rishi Sunak, and Canadian Prime Minister Justin Trudeau, as well as the leaders of the 27 member states of the European Union, to support Iranian protesters while taking "decisive steps" against the current regime.

It begins by noting that over the past eight months the globe has witnessed a "sweeping popular uprising in Iran" that is demanding both freedom and democracy.

Citing reports that suggest some 750 protesters have been killed and 30,000 arrested, the letter insists the international community "has a responsibility to support their human rights," while clarifying that "any change should come from the people of Iran."

"Decades of apparent silence and inaction by the international community have helped fuel a culture of impunity in Iran," it states.

Through their slogans, the Iranian people have made it clear that they reject all forms of dictatorship, be it that of the deposed Shah or the Islamic regime.
