4.2 Describe the type of business that the applicant is proposing to establish.
██████████ presents a novel system to monitor cannabis health and detecting deficiencies and disease based on deep learning diagnosis algorithms. An IoT device including PH, humidity, temperature, and light monitoring sensors collects data from cannabis growing environments. This data in addition to images collected by phone and processed by ██████████'s developed mobile application is fed to a state-of-the-art artificial intelligence model, which detects and alerts deficiencies and diseases and therefore prevents the spread of diseases for Canadian home growers. It processes technological features for innovation: First, the smart software and application is developed in-house which uses image processing and AI, specifically for detecting main cannabis disease including Fungal infections, Fungal Infestions, Spider mites, Scouting-off & Pythium rot. In integration with smart multi-node/IoT, IoT gateway, this application will empower small scale farmers and home growers to provide proper environment controls for a more efficient, cannabis growth.
