A wildfire near Iran's capital triggers an explosion of mines planted around a high-security prison

Associated Press

Iran

TEHRAN (AP) — A wildfire on the outskirts of Iran's capital triggered an explosion Friday of mines that had been planted around a high-security prison that houses political prisoners, but there were no injuries, state media reported.

The official IRNA news agency said the accident happened around noon at the Evin prison on the northern outskirts of Tehran but that it caused no damage or casualties and that firefighters extinguished the blaze.

The report blamed the fire on the country's record heatwave. Temperatures in Tehran around noon Friday were about 38 C (100 F).

Iranian media in the past have mentioned the mines, which reportedly are anti-personnel mines planted to deter escape attempts.

In October a blaze in the prison led to death and injuries of several inmates. In another case that occurred at the time, gunshots and explosions could be heard in the area of the prison.
